Theaters

The week's program opening, Saturday 29th with a Paramount feature with Jack Holt playing the lead in "The Call of the North," Hazel Dawn in "Devotion" on Sunday is a picture that will excite great interest as Miss Dawn is a great favorite with Maui fans. The feature attraction of the week opens at the Hippodrome on Wednesday with the ever popular Thomas Meighan in "A Prince There Was." George Walsh in "The Plunger" is the Fox feature and Hoot Gibson in "Action" is a real Universal western thriller. Pauline Frederick's in "The Woman in Room 13" is a picture that like the play is a great success.

Several patrons have remarked about the splendid change in the advance seat sale that is now held at the Maui Drug Store for the Hippodrome no more waiting at the box office on the night of the production, just get your tickets at the time you book, the advance sale for Thomas Meighan in "A Prince There Was" will open on Monday, May 1st.

Now that Kahului Theatre has two machines and a continuous projection patrons will no doubt appreciate this change and will have now one of the most comfortable theatres on the island.

Friday night is a special night for the kiddies at the Hipp, apart from the usual children's program. Manager Harris will present a balloon to everyone of the youngsters, so don't forget balloon night at the Hipp next Friday.

"A Prince There Was"

Adolph Zukor presents Thomas Meighan in "A Prince There Was" this being Paramount Feature which opens at the Wailuku Hippodrome on Wednesday 29d.

The story is taken from George M. Cohens, famous play based on the novel "Enchanted Hearts" by Darragh Aldrich, the scenario is by Wald erman Young the film being directed by Tom Forman. Mr. Meighan who is one of the Paramount's most popular stars is supported by Mildred Harris and a cast of well known Paramount players. Don't miss this splendid production of one of the best known stories ever filmed, and the play that was such a huge success on Broadway which shows Thomas Meighan at his best.

"Devotion"

Motion picture enthusiasts who admired the Prince of Wales during his stay in this country will be afforded an opportunity to witness His Highness' charming personality in the Associated Producers' production, "Devotion," starring Hazel Dawn.

Lionized by society's four hundred and feted and dined until the very last moment of his departure, the Prince is seen surrounded by a group of notable American captains of industry witnessing the Horse Show at Madison Square Garden, New York City. This scene, which was filmed exclusively at great expense, is part and parcel of the photo-drama telling the story of the ardent love of a young woman for her husband.

Other features of the pictureplay are a number of picturesque scenes showing for the first time in motion pictures the wonderful swimming pool of the Pennsylvania Hotel, New York City, where for two days the prominent members of the cast enjoyed its privileges while filming scenes for "Devotion." Another magnificent set reveals a society function in which over 2,300 people were used as "extras."

Prominent members of the cast supporting Miss Dawn include E. K. Lincoln, the well known character actor, Violet Palmer, Renita Randolph, Bradwood Nowell. The story was written and produced under the direct supervision of A. J. Binberg.

"The Call of the North"

One of the greatest monopolies in history was the Hudson's Bay Company which maintained its hold for more than 200 years over the greater part of what is now Canada. Its factors held the power of life or death over those who lived within the radius of its trading posts. This monopoly came to an end in 1870 when the company surrendered its charter in exchange for certain properties.

This dramatic state of affairs forms a basis for "The Call of the North," Jack Holt's first Paramount starring vehicle.

There were, it seems, certain factors who did not give up their autocratic powers—a state of affairs not condoned by the Hudson's Bay House, in London, but which went on because of the remote location of such posts. It was with this material that Stewart Edward White built his novel "Conjuror's House," from which the picture was adapted by Jack Cunningham. There was also a stage play by George Broadhurst which had wide success. A fine cast includes Madge Bellamy as the heroine, playing opposite the star, Noah Deery, Francis McDonald, Edward Martindel, Helen Ferguson and Jack Herbert, Joseph Henabery, directed.

"The Plunger"

Interesting views of this nation's great financial battle ground, the heart of the Wall Street district where the recent disastrous explosion occurred, are contained in "The Plunger," a William Fox picture announced as the attraction at the Maui theaters George Walsh is the star.

Photographs of the two extremities of Wall Street are shown, together with exciting scenes on the floor of the Stock Exchange—obtained by special permission.

"The Plunger" is said to contain many elements that add distinction to its well told romance of Wall Street. The two-million-dollar Long Island estate of a financier whose name is withheld was placed at the disposal of the producing company for some beautiful outdoor scenes.

"The Plunger" received credit for being one of the most engrossing and well acted pictures in which George Walsh ever appeared. The star is seen as "Take a Chance" Schuyler, a millionaire broker who rose from the position of office boy.

Obituary

MRS. JACINTHE DEPONTE

At the ripe age of 80, Mrs. Jacinthe Deponte passed away last Sunday at the home of her only son, M. S. Deponte at Paia. Funeral services were held the same day in Kuau Church and interment was in Kuau cemetery. Mrs. Deponte was born at St. Michaels in the Azores in 1843 and came to these Islands about 40 years ago. She had been a widow for many years and for several years had been growing more feeble and losing health as was to be expected with her advanced years.

During her long life on Maui she had made many friends by no means all of whom had passed on before her. She had always been highly thought of in her home community.
